Preface

The Constitution of the Union comprises the Constitution proper, which establishes the Union and provides frameworks for its governance, alongside several Schedules, which give detailed rules for the Union’s day-to-day workings.

Following the Schedules are two Appendices giving extracts from the Education Act 1994, the Act of Parliament which governs Students’ Unions such as the Graduate Union, and the Chapter of the University of Cambridge’s Ordinances, which provide regulations governing the Union. These are provided herein as a convenience; authoritative versions can be sourced from the websites of the Government and the University respectively.
Historical Note

Graduate study at Cambridge is a relatively recent phenomenon. The PhD as a formal arrangement developed as a response to growing demand from domestic and international research students following the Second World War, and this demand has risen ever since.

The initial boom in student numbers of the 1940s and ’50s led to a severe shortage of College accommodation. Whilst science students spent most of their time in departments, arts and humanities students suffered from isolated accommodation in rented houses away from College. As this was a new problem for Colleges and the University, it was at first ignored.

In 1954 the wife of the then Master of Peterhouse, Mrs Burkill, intervened on behalf of graduate students against treatment that she regarded as unfair. She called a meeting that resulted in the formation of the Junior Graduate Society, later the Graduate Union Society, against considerable University opposition. In 1962 the University finally officially recognised this group as The Graduate Society, with Mrs Burkill as its President. Initially operating out of Fitzwilliam House, opposite the Fitzwilliam Museum, she provided a space in which graduates could socialize, and was at one point cooking meals daily for upwards of 150 people. “GradSoc” quickly became the social focus of graduate life, and rapidly demonstrated to the Colleges how large and valuable the graduate population had become.

In 1969 Mrs Burkill handed over responsibility of GradSoc to graduate students themselves, and by 1981 GradSoc had become Cambridge University Graduate Union.
The Constitution
Background

A. Cambridge University Graduate Union (the “Union”) is a students’ union within the meaning of the Education Act 1994. The Union is devoted to the educational interests and welfare of Graduate Students (as defined in this constitution).

B. The Union will seek at all times to:

(i) ensure that the diversity of the Students is recognised and that equal access is available to all Students of whatever origin or orientation;

(ii) pursue its aims and objectives independent of any political party or religious group; and

(iii) pursue equal opportunities by taking positive action within the law to facilitate participation as Students of groups discriminated against by society.

C. This Constitution has been structured to give the Board of Trustees reasonable authority to manage the affairs of the Union in a professional manner. The Members enjoy the right, which must be exercised in accordance with charity law, to elect a proportion of the Trustees (via the Student Council) and to dismiss all of the Trustees. The Board of Trustees will give the utmost consideration to the views of Members.

D. Under the Education Act 1994, the University of Cambridge has a statutory duty to ensure that the Union operates in a fair and democratic manner and is held to proper account for its finances. The Union therefore works alongside the University of Cambridge in ensuring that the affairs of the Union are properly conducted and that the educational and welfare needs of Students and the Union’s Members are met.

E. The Union is a student-led organisation, and therefore the presumption throughout this Constitution is that students should form the majority of its management and governance committees (without prejudice to the provisions of this Constitution regarding the proceedings of any such committee, in particular in relation to the management of conflicts of interest).
Section I

31. A Referendum to pass a motion of no confidence in an Elected Officer or Trustee must be called by a Secure Petition signed by at least 100 Members in accordance with Clauses 68.1 or 70.2.

32. Except as provided in Clauses 16.2, 68.1 and 70.2, a resolution may only be passed by Referendum if at least 200 Members cast a vote in the Referendum and a majority of the votes cast are in favour of the resolution.

33. Subject to Clause 79, the Members may set Policy by Referenda. Policy set by Referenda may overturn Policy set either by the Members in general meeting or by the Student Council.
SECTION V

Annual general meeting

34. The Union shall hold an annual general meeting ("AGM") once in each calendar year. Not more than 18 months shall pass between the date of one annual general meeting and the next. The annual general meeting shall be held at such time and place as the Trustees shall think suitable to allow the maximum number of Members to attend.

General meetings

35. The Trustees may call a general meeting at any time. The Trustees shall call a general meeting on receiving a requisition to that effect, signed by at least 50 Members having the right to attend and vote at general meetings.

Location of meetings

36. AGMs and general meetings may be carried out at one single venue or simultaneously at a maximum of three separate venues with a video, audio or other real-time link between all of the venues. At the start of such meetings, each venue must indicate by majority vote that they are satisfied with the meeting set-up and technology.

Length of Notice

37. AGMs and general meetings shall be called by at least 14 clear days’ written notice.

Contents of Notice

38. Every notice calling an AGM or general meeting shall specify the place, day and time of the meeting and the general nature of the business to be transacted. If the meeting is an AGM, the notice must say so and the business to be transacted shall include:

38.1. ratification of minutes of previous AGM;
38.2. receiving the report of the Trustees on the Union’s activities since the previous AGM;
38.3. receiving the accounts of the Union for the previous financial year;
38.4. appointment of the auditors;
38.5. approving the list of affiliations of the Union; and
38.6. open questions to the Trustees by the Members.

Service of Notice

39. Notice of AGMs and general meetings shall be given to every Member, to the Trustees, to the University and to any patron of the Union.

Quorum

40. No business shall be transacted at any AGM or general meeting unless a quorum is present. 20 persons entitled to vote upon the business to be transacted, each being a Member (but excluding Trustees and Non-Graduate Members), shall be a quorum.

41. If such a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting, the meeting shall stand adjourned to the same day in the next week at the same time and place or to such other day, time and place as the Trustees may determine and if at the adjourned meeting a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting the Members present shall be a quorum.

Chair

42. The chair of Student Council or in his or her absence the deputy chair of Student Council shall preside as chair of the meeting. In the absence of the chair and deputy chair of Student Council, the Members present and entitled to vote shall choose one of their number to be chair.
Attendance

43. A Trustee may, even if not a Member, attend and speak at any AGM or general meeting.

44. The Trustees may invite a representative of the University to attend and speak at an AGM or general meeting, but if a majority of those present and entitled to vote so decide the representative may be excluded from the meeting.

Adjournment

45. The chair may, with the consent of a meeting at which a quorum is present (and shall if so directed by the meeting), adjourn the meeting from time to time and from place to place, but no business shall be transacted at an adjourned meeting other than business which might properly have been transacted at the meeting had the adjournment not taken place. When a meeting is adjourned for fourteen days or more, at least seven clear days’ notice shall be given specifying the time and place of the adjourned meeting and the general nature of the business to be transacted. Otherwise it shall not be necessary to give any such notice.

Votes of Members at general meetings

46. Every Member has the right to attend AGMs and general meetings and (other than Non-Graduate Members, who may only attend) the right to vote. A resolution put to the vote of an AGM or general meeting shall be decided on a show of hands, and every Member (other than Non-Graduate Members) shall have one vote.

47. Every resolution put to the vote of an AGM or general meeting shall be decided by a simple majority of the votes cast unless this Constitution provides otherwise.
Section VI

10. The Returning Officer and Elections Committee are required to act impartially at all times, and may not campaign for any candidate.

11. The Elections Committee shall establish Rules for the conduct of an election. For the annual cross-campus elections, these Rules shall be reported to GU Council no later than the First Council of Lent Term. Election Rules and rulings on the conduct of elections made by the Elections Committee shall have the force of Schedules, providing they do not conflict with the Constitution or Schedules.

SCHEDULE G

Complaints procedure

Complaints Principles and Revision Limitations

1. Preamble: That the GU has a Complaints Procedure is, as of November 2008, a requirement of national law, as required by the Education Act 1994.

2. References are made in this section to the Junior Proctor of the University of Cambridge as an avenue of appeal regarding decisions made about complaints. This is because the Education Act 1994 requires that “an independent person should be appointed by the governing body of the University to investigate and report on complaints”; the Junior Proctor is designated by the University to be this independent person. Should the University designate another person for this role, then the part played by the Junior Proctor in this section should instead be played by whatever person is so designated.

3. Principle of adjudication: GU Officers or Trustees should consider complaints first and foremost on the basis of fairness. While they must consider the health of the GU, financial and otherwise, in any decision, Officers and Trustees should seek to rule on the basis of fairness to the furthest extent that is reasonable and feasible. They should not simply seek to minimise the GU’s exposure to criticism or financial outlay, except insofar as legally obliged to do so.

4. Transparency: GU complaints procedures should be made easy to locate and use. Any GU Officer or Trustee involved in advising on, processing, or adjudicating a complaint should not simply disclose required information but should also volunteer procedural information helpful to the making of a complaint. At each phase of any complaints process, the complainant and any other directly interested parties should be given full information about their potential avenues of appeal.

5. Merger and Severance: At any stage of a complaints process, relevant officers may rule that multiple complaints should be considered together or that a single complaint should be considered in separate parts or processes. Such officers have an obligation to ensure that the specifics of complaints being merged are still addressed or that the holistic merits of a complaint being separated are still
Formal and Informal Complaints

6. The procedures outlined in this Schedule (G) apply to formal complaints unless otherwise noted. Anyone who contacts a GU Officer with a query or statement that reasonably may be construed as a complaint or as leading to a complaint should be informed about their right to issue a formal complaint and directed to information about how to do so.

7. A formal complaint shall consist of a text submitted in any reasonable format noting all of the following:
   (a) The desire to make a complaint
   (b) The specifics of the issue about which they wish to complain
   (c) The details of any specific harms caused by the issue
   (d) A method by which the complainant can be reached for correspondence

8. Forms should be made readily available offering templates for making formal complaints

9. Any person who is the subject of a complaint or has a personal interest in the outcome of a complaint must recuse him or herself from any deliberations of any body or office involved in adjudicating the complaint

10. Privacy: Specific contingencies should be built into complaints procedures allowing particularly sensitive complaints (or parts thereof) involving compelling issues of personal privacy to be dealt with by alternate means when the normal means would be inappropriately public. In instances where officers or a body adjudicating complaints find that a certain compelling issue of personal privacy cannot be adequately addressed, they should refer the matter to the GU Board of Trustees. When in doubt, reviewers of complaints should discuss with complainants and other concerned individuals their intentions regarding potentially sensitive information.

Employment Complaints

11. Complaints by GU Staff, whether appointed or seconded, shall be dealt with in accordance with the GU’s legal obligations as an employer or manager, GU in-
12. The Board of Trustees and such officers as shall undertake the task of offering contracts or setting employment procedures shall ensure that the various documents governing each staff member’s employment provide clear instructions for the submission and adjudication of complaints.

Complaints about the Conduct of Staff

13. Complaints about the conduct of GU staff made by anyone other than GU staff should be referred first to the GU President. Complaints made by GU staff themselves should be dealt with through an Employment Complaints procedure as laid down by the GU Board of Trustees or in GU staff contracts or collective employment agreements.

14. The President should acknowledge receipt of a formal complaint to the complainant within 3 working days of receiving it. Within 10 working days of receiving a complaint, the President should do one or more of the following:

(b) Respond to the complainant outlining why a specific amount of additional time is needed for specific tasks that are necessary to properly investigating the complaint.

(c) Judge the GU complaints procedures incompetent to hear the complaint and take all reasonable measures to refer the complainant to a body with proper jurisdiction

(d) Reject the Complaint

(e) Uphold the Complaint in part and set out corrective action

(f) Uphold the Complaint in full and set out corrective action

(g) Refer the complaint to the Board of Trustees. If the President’s ruling on the complaint would involve a serious admission of civil or criminal liability, the President should automatically refer the complaint to the Board of Trustees.

15. Any ruling of the President may be appealed to the Board of Trustees by anyone directly involved in the complaint or in corrective action set out by the President.
16. Complaints referred or appealed to the Board of Trustees shall be put on the Board’s agenda for its next regular meeting. If Board members feel that the complaint must be dealt with urgently, they may call an emergency meeting.

17. If students directly involved in the complaint or in the decision of the Board of Trustees are dissatisfied with that decision, they may appeal it to the Junior Proctor, and the Board of Trustees should advise all relevant parties of this fact and of how such an appeal could be made.

18. If the complaint is not referred to the Board of Trustees, the President should report the complaint and its disposition to the next regular meeting of the Board of Trustees.

20. For the avoidance of doubt, the GU Trustees and members of the Executive Committee should be considered elected officers for the purposes of paragraphs 19 to 27. Student officers such as MCR Presidents, Faculty Representatives, and student members of the University Council and General Board, though they may be afforded particular powers within GU structures, shall not be considered elected officers for the purposes of this section. 23. If a complaint under paragraph 21 involves discrimination against or offence to a certain distinct group and there are GU representative officers whose portfolios cover those groups, those officers should be solicited for their advice on the complaint and provided with all details about the complaint that it is reasonable to disclose to them, provided that any reasonable privacy concerns can be satisfied.

25. Anyone directly involved in the complaint or in corrective action set out by the President may appeal a President’s ruling to the GU Council in the form of a motion to the Council. If the motion involves a serious admission of civil or criminal liability or a compelling issue of privacy, the GU chair shall rule the motion out of order and refer the issue to the Board of Trustees.

26. Complaints referred or appealed to the Board of Trustees shall be put on the Board’s agenda for its next regular meeting. If Board members feel that the complaint must be dealt with urgently, they may call an emergency meeting.

27. If students directly involved in the complaint or in the decision of the GU Council or the Board of Trustees (whichever has acted as the appellate body) are dissatisfied with that decision, they may appeal it to the Junior Proctor, and either the GU Council Chair or the Board of Trustees should advise all relevant parties of this fact and of how such an appeal could be made.

Complaints about GU Services, Facilities or Products

28. Complaints about GU Services, facilities or products should be referred first to the GU President

29. If a complaint under paragraph 28 involves discrimination against or offence to a certain distinct group and there are GU representative officers whose portfolios cover those groups, those officers should be solicited for their advice on the complaint and provided with all details about the complaint that it is reasonable to disclose to them, provided that any reasonable privacy concerns can be satisfied.

(9) Subsection (2)(d) and (l)(ii) (elections and affiliations: requirements to hold secret ballot of all members) do not apply in the case of an open or distance learning establishment, that is, an establishment where the students, or the great majority of them, are provided with materials for private study and are not required to attend the establishment to any significant extent or at all.
THE GRADUATE UNION

1. There shall be a Graduate Union, which shall be an association of members of the University who are pursuing in the University a course of graduate study or research, as defined by the constitution of the Union.

2. The constitution of the Graduate Union shall provide for the objects of the Union to be:

the advancement of education of graduate students at the University and any other persons who are members of the Union by:

(a) promoting the interests and welfare of graduate students and other members of the Union, and providing support and advice to them;

(b) being a recognized representative channel between graduate students (other than those who are not members of the Union) and the University and bodies external to the University; and

(c) providing social, cultural, sporting, and recreational activities and forums for discussions and debate for the personal development of graduate students and any other persons who are members of the Union, and ‘graduate students’ shall mean any individual who is formally matriculated and registered for an approved graduate or postgraduate programme provided by the University, all undergraduates of the University who are in their fourth or higher year of residence, or who are formally registered for an approved programme of study provided by the University and are 21 years of age or over at the commencement of their course of study, and any student who is a member of the institutions belonging to the Cambridge Theological Federation or any successor body.

3. No amendment of the constitution of the Graduate Union to give effect to a change in the objects of the Union shall have effect unless Regulation 2 has been amended by the University. No other amendment of the constitution of the Union shall have effect unless approval has been given by the Council.

4. The Council shall have discretion to provide financial assistance to the Graduate Union.

5. The President of the Graduate Union shall be the principal financial officer of the Union and shall be accountable to the Council for the financial management of the Union (in addition to his or her accountability and responsibility under the provisions of the constitution of the Union). In the Michaelmas Term of each academical year the President shall submit to the Council estimates of the Union’s income and expenditure for the Union’s next financial year.

6. Before the division of the Lent Term in each academical year the President of the Graduate Union shall provide the Council with the audited accounts of the Union for the Union’s previous financial year.

7. The office of President of the Graduate Union shall be defined as a major office for the purposes of Section 22(2)(d) of the Education Act 1994.

8. The Council shall have discretion to maintain a working relationship with the Graduate Union in the manner described in their Notice dated 26 November 1979.

9. The Graduate Union shall be recognized by the Council as an organization representing junior members of the University who are graduate students, in University as distinct from College matters, subject to the conditions set out in these regulations.

10. Any member of the Union who wishes to resign membership in a particular academical year shall be entitled to do so by giving notice in writing, on a prescribed form, to the Registrary. The Registrary shall inform the President of the resignation, and the President shall forthwith delete the name of the person from any electoral roll or register of the Union, with immediate effect. Such resignation shall be effective for the remainder of the academical year, and such person shall not be regarded as represented by the Union under the provisions of these regulations. A person who has exercised this right, and who holds an office of the Union, or membership of any committee or other body in the Union, shall thereby vacate it.

11. If a complaint by a member of the Union, or a person who would be entitled to be a member if he or she had not exercised the right of resignation under Regulation
10, cannot be satisfactorily resolved by the officers of the Union, the complainant may refer the complaint to the Junior Proctor, who shall seek the opinion of the appropriate officer or officers of the Union, shall investigate the matter, and shall report on it in writing in such terms as he or she considers appropriate, indicating his or her finding as to whether or not the complaint is upheld, giving such reasons as he or she thinks fit, and stating provisionally what remedy, if any, he or she proposes. Notice of such findings and of any provisional remedy shall be sent by the Junior Proctor to the President or other appropriate officer of the Union, to the complainant, and to the Registrar. The Junior Proctor shall consider any representations made by these persons and shall then confirm, modify, or withdraw his or her findings and provisional remedy. Any remedy so confirmed, whether or not after modification, shall be executed without delay. The final decision of the Junior Proctor shall be notified to the Vice-Chancellor and those to whom the provisional decision was notified. Any functions of the Junior Proctor under this regulation may be delegated by that officer to another Proctor or Pro-Proctor.

12. The President of the Union shall submit to the Council each year in the Michaelmas Term an electoral scheme for the conduct of elections in the Union in the remainder of the academic year. The scheme shall provide for the appointment, subject to confirmation by the Council, of returning officers, and for the Council to receive from the returning officers a report on the conduct of each election.

Code of practice in respect of student unions issued under section 22 of the Education Act 1994

1. Section 22 of the Education Act 1994 places a number of responsibilities on governing bodies of universities (as defined by section 21, sub-section 5). Sub-section 3 of that section provides that every governing body shall prepare and issue, and where necessary revise, a code of practice as to the manner in which the requirements of sub-sections 1 and 2 are to be carried into effect in relation to any students’ union for students of the establishment, setting out in relation to each of the requirements details of the arrangements made to secure its observance. The present code of practice is issued by the Council in respect of Cambridge University Students Union (CUSU) and Cambridge University Graduate Union.

General duty of governing bodies

2. Sub-section 1 requires the governing body to take ‘such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that any students’ union for students of the establishment operates in a fair and democratic manner and is accountable for its finances’. This requirement is fulfilled through compliance with the requirements of the Ordinances for each union, with the provisions of the present code of practice, and with the constitutions of the two unions.
Particular requirements of the Act

3. Sub-section 2 requires governing bodies to take ‘such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that the following requirements are observed by or in relation to any students’ union for students of the establishment’. These detailed requirements are dealt with below.

(a) Written constitution: Unions should have a written constitution.

Both CUSU and the Graduate Union have written constitutions.

(b) Constitutions to be approved by the governing body and to be reviewed by it. The provisions of unions’ constitutions are to be subject to the approval of the governing body of the university and to review by it at intervals of not more than five years.

The constitutions of CUSU and the Graduate Union have been reviewed on their recognition by the University; the regulations for each union require amendments of the objects clause to be approved by Grace, and require the Council to approve other amendments to the constitutions. The constitutions of the two unions are reviewed in the Easter Term each year by the Council, acting through their Committee for the Supervision of the Student Unions (CCSSU).

(c) Opting out. A student should have the right not to be a member of a union or in the case of a representative body which is not an association to signify that he or she does not wish to be represented by it and students who exercise that right should not be unfairly disadvantaged with regard to the provision of services or otherwise by reason of their having done so.

The regulations for each union include provision for resignation; a form for this purpose may be obtained from the University Offices, The Old Schools, or from the officers of either union. The Council have been informed that the unions would nevertheless wish to continue to make their services available to students who choose not formally to be members and the Council have made it a condition of University funding of the two unions that this should be so. Payments should normally continue to be made by College student unions to CUSU or the Graduate Union as the case may be in relation to any student who has opted out of membership.

(d) Election to major union offices. The Act provides that appointment to major union offices should be by election in a secret ballot in which all members are entitled to vote.

The regulations for each union indicate which sabbatical offices are to be regarded as major union offices. Election to these offices is by secret ballot.

(e) Union elections. Governing bodies are required to satisfy themselves that union elections are fairly and properly conducted.

The regulations for the two unions require them to submit to the Council electoral schemes for the conduct of elections. There is provision for the Council to be informed of the appointment of returning officers, to confirm their appointment, and to receive from the returning officers a report on the conduct of elections. The CCSSU deal with this business on behalf of the Council.
(f) Sabbatical or paid elected offices. A person is not to hold sabbatical union office, or paid elected union office, for more than two years in total at the establishment.

A provision to this effect is included in the constitution of each union.

(g) Financial management. The financial affairs of unions are to be properly conducted and appropriate arrangements are to exist for the approval of unions’ budgets, and the monitoring of expenditure by the governing body.

The regulations require the estimates and accounts of the two unions to be submitted to the Council. The regulations also provide for the President to be financially responsible and to be accountable to the Council for the financial management of each union. Under the HEFCE Audit Code of Practice, the two unions are within the scope of the University’s internal audit service and of the Audit Committee of the Council. It is a condition of University grant to both unions that interim half-yearly reports on expenditure should be made to the Council, and the Council will invite the CCSSU, and if necessary the Finance Committee, to consider these reports, and the accounts and estimates of the two unions.

(h) Financial reports. Financial reports of unions are to be published annually or more frequently, and are to be made available to the governing body and to all students; each report is in particular to contain a list of external organizations to which the union has made donations in the period to which the report relates and details of these donations.

Compliance with these requirements is a condition of grant from the University. The unions will circulate their accounts annually to JCR and MCR presidents and equivalent, who will make them available for reference in Colleges by junior members. The accounts will also be available for reference by junior members in the University Offices, The Old Schools, and, in respect of each union, at its own offices.

(i) Groups or clubs. The procedure for student unions to allocate resources to groups or clubs is to be fair and is to be set down in writing and freely accessible to all students.

In Cambridge the principal allocations to University clubs and societies are made not by the unions, but by two University bodies, the Societies Syndicate and the University Sports Committee. To the limited extent that the two unions make allocations to groups, clubs, or societies, they are required to operate fairly and to approve a written procedure, to be approved by the Council through the CCSSU.

(j) Affiliation to external organizations. If a union decides to affiliate to an external organization it must publish notice of its decision stating the name of the organization and details of any subscription or similar fee paid or proposed to be paid and of any donation made or proposed to be made to the organization, and such notice is to be made available to the governing body and to all students.

The constitutions of the two unions make provision for these procedures. Notice to the governing body is to be given to the CCSSU on the Council’s behalf, and notice to students is by circulation of notices for display in Colleges.
Report on affiliation. When a union is affiliated to any external organization a report is to be published annually or more frequently containing a list of external organizations to which the union is currently affiliated and details of subscriptions or similar fees paid or donations made to such organizations in the past year or since the last report, and such reports are to be made available to the governing body and to all students.

The constitutions of the two unions contain provision for these procedures.

Review of affiliations. There are to be procedures for the review of affiliations to external organizations under which the current list of affiliations is submitted for approval by members annually or more frequently, and at such intervals of not more than a year as the governing body may determine and under which a requisition may be made by such proportion of members, not exceeding five per cent., as the governing body may determine, that the question of continued affiliation to any particular organization be decided upon by a secret ballot in which all members are entitled to vote.

Appropriate constitutional provision has been made in the constitutions of both unions. The Council have determined that the proportion of members seeking a requisition for a secret ballot shall be two per cent, and that such a requisition may be made once a year, in the Lent Term.

Complaints procedures for students. There is to be a complaints procedure to be available to all students or groups of students who are dissatisfied in their dealings with a union or who claim to have been unfairly disadvantaged by reason of their having exercised the opt-out right referred to in paragraph (c) above, and this complaints procedure is to include provision for an independent person appointed by the governing body to investigate and report on complaints.

The regulations for each union include provision for a complaints procedure, the Junior Proctor being the independent person to investigate complaints. If the Junior Proctor believes that he or she cannot properly act independently in a particular case he or she will delegate the matter to another Proctor or Pro-Proctor, as provided for in the University regulations.

Remedies. Complaints are to be dealt with promptly and fairly and where a complaint is upheld there should be an effective remedy.

University regulations for the unions require any remedy confirmed after an investigation under 3(m) to be executed by the union without delay. The union is required to notify the Secretary of the CCSSU confirming that the remedy has been implemented. Compliance with these remedies is a condition of University grant to the unions. If a remedy is not implemented, the matter will be referred to the CCSSU so that abatement or termination of University grant, or other measures, can be considered.
Sub-section 4

5. Governing bodies are to bring to the attention of all students at least once a year the code of practice; any restrictions imposed on the activities of student unions by the law relating to charities; and where applicable, the provisions of section 43 of the Education (No. 2) Act 1986 about freedom of speech in universities and colleges, and of any code of practice issued under it relevant to the activities or conduct of unions.

These matters are brought to the attention of students by the publication annually of Proctorial notices; by the publication of the present code of practice in Statutes and Ordinances, and information provided on the University’s online student gateway. An account of the restrictions on the activities of unions, together with information on charity law, and the provisions of Section 43 of the 1986 Act and the University’s code of practice under that section are included on the student gateway at http://www.cambridgestudents.cam.ac.uk/cambridge-life/student-unions.

Sub-section 5

6. Governing bodies are to bring to the attention of all students at least once a year and to include in any information generally made available to persons considering whether to become students of the establishment information about the right of opt-out from union membership (paragraph (c) above) and about arrangements made for services for students who have opted out.

This information is given by Proctorial notice and by information for applicants included in prospectuses.
